Developed by Clinical Psychologists, NeuroOptimal® is the most advanced, non-invasive and 100% safe neurotechnology to date. NeuroOptimal® brain training works with the central nervous system – your brain – by targeting turbulent activity that can undermine optimal brain function. NeuroOptimal® detects these abrupt changes in the brain's electrical activity and informs the brain of these sudden shifts by interruptions in sound. These almost imperceptible pauses invite your central nervous system to pull back from the less than optimal path it was on. Given accurate information about its activity, the brain can naturally self-correct and work more efficiently. When it does, people report sleeping better, feeling less stressed and focusing more easily. NeuroOptimal® is turn-key, fully automated and can be learned in one hour or less.

NeuroOptimal® is used by organizations, professionals in their practices and businesses and users with their families at home. Together, we form a close-knit community that spans multiple continents. Zengar is committed to offering outstanding support to its users, as well as ongoing investment in Research and Development to carry its users safely into the future. NeuroOptimal® has a long history, having well over 3 MILLION hours of safe and effective usage behind it and celebrating over 17 years of changing lives!

NeuroOptimal® is for everyone. It is diagnostically agnostic and training is absolutely effortless for the user. You can relax, close your eyes and even fall asleep if you choose. Incredibly simple to learn and to operate, all the expertise has been built right in. You need no special qualifications to work with it.

"If I did nothing but train myself and my family, this would be the best investment I've ever made. That I can share this source of relief with others and help their lives improve and make a career for myself at the same time seems unreal to me sometimes. NeuroOptimal® is a gift. There are a number of people who would be in a very different life circumstance today if it wasn't for this technology." - excerpt from 2014 NeuroOptimal® Trainer Survey Report
